Akenfield

Akenfield is a film made by Peter Hall in 1974, based loosely upon the book Akenfield: Portrait of an English Village by Ronald Blythe (1969). It can claim a degree of cult status – and has been described as a work of rural realism, unusual in relation to East Anglia.

Akenfield - Wikipedia

The film Akenfield is set in a small Suffolk village and tells the story of the last century. In 1974, under the direction of Peter Hall, the people of the village acted out the stories of their lives and the lives of their parents and grandparents.

Akenfield

Directed by Peter Hall. With Garrow Shand, Peggy Cole, Barbara Tilney, Lyn Brooks. As the young man, Tom, prepares to leave the Suffolk village of his birth, voices and experiences from his family's past crowd in on his mind, weaving a poetic tapestry of the love of home and the longing to get away from it.
